ASSESSMENT AND MONITORING

- Medical teams have reported a 'big shift' in the last 48 hours in the types of cases they are receiving. Several medical teams report a growing caseload of diarrhea in the last two to three days. There are also reports of measles and tetanus, including in resettlement camps, which is worrisome due to the high concentration of people. Additionally, there is a decrease in trauma cases and increase in mental health needs.
- Current critical needs within the health sector include orthopedic and internal medicine specialists as well as X-ray equipment.
- Efforts are continuing to gain a full picture of the needs in health and water and sanitation supplies outside the Port-au-Prince area. Several international NGOs started or will begin operating in areas such as Leogane, Petit Goave and Grand Goave.
- In Leogane, Terre des Hommes will focus on child protection and is identifying child needs. The Japanese are carrying out an assessment for the recovery of medical facilities in this area.
