MAIN OBJECTIVE:

Explore in further depth international health issues, the forces and components of the international health conceptual model proposed by the LIHP, its relationship to health and development in the Americas, and its application to the country project.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

1. Analyze the history and evolution – principal concepts, theories and models – of international health, their manifestation in the national and regional context, and their implications for the region of the Americas.
2. Refine the proposal for the country project, including application of the conceptual model
3. Reinforce some specific competencies related to the LIHP:
  - a. Strengthen the capacity for negotiation, particularly in the area of health and development
  - b. Strengthen competencies in communication
  - c. Identify the most relevant competencies for leadership in the field of international health

TASKS:

In preparation for the meeting:

- Review the following:
  - Chapters indicated in 'International Health: a North-South Debate'
  - LIHP Conceptual model of International health 2010: read p. 1-20
  - Review sessions on conceptual model (13 and 18 June)
- Bring proposal for country project topic (max. 1 page) that includes the following:
  - Definition of international health problem that will be addressed
  - Justification for the selected problem
  - Definition of the type of project to be developed
- Submit report on week in country office to subregional mentor
Due date: 1 July (presuming onsite week was undertaken previously)
- Complete survey on international health competencies
Due date: 4 July

During meeting:

- Present country project proposal

EXPECTED PRODUCTS:

- Presentation and preliminary document on country project proposal
Due date: 31 July 2013

Note: coffee breaks are scheduled for 10:30am and 3:30pm; although there may be slight variations based on session dynamics.
