

Climate Change Vulnerability Assessment

Written by Kirsten Brownstein

Wednesday, 27 June 2012 22:32 - Last Updated Wednesday, 27 June 2012 22:50

Protecting Health From Climate Change: Vulnerability and Adaptation Assessment

This document is the result of a joint effort between WHO, PAHO, ministry of health representatives and subject matter experts to improve the guidance for the conduct of vulnerability assessments. It is intended not as a final, definitive guide but as an important part of an evolving set of resources that will support effective and evidence-based action to protect health from climate change.