FINAL REPORT

Opening of the Session

1. The 153rd Session of the Executive Committee was held at the Headquarters of the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO) in Washington, D.C., on 4 October 2013. The session was attended by representatives of the following nine members of the Executive Committee elected by the Directing Council: Bahamas, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Costa Rica, Ecuador, El Salvador, Jamaica, and Paraguay. Present in an observer capacity were representatives of Guatemala, Mexico, Peru, and the United States of America.

2. Dr. Víctor Raúl Cuba Oré (Peru, outgoing President of the Executive Committee) opened the session and welcomed the participants, extending a special welcome to the new members elected by the recently concluded 52nd Directing Council: Bahamas, Costa Rica, and Ecuador.

3. Dr. Carissa Etienne (Director, Pan American Sanitary Bureau [PASB]), added her welcome to the participants and extended gratitude to Dr. Cuba Oré for his exemplary leadership of the Committee and of the consultative process that had culminated in the adoption by the 52nd Directing Council of the PAHO Strategic Plan 2014-2019.

10. The Committee decided that the 53rd Directing Council, 66th Session of the Regional Committee of WHO for the Americas, would be held from 29 September to 3 October 2014 (Decision CE153[D6]).

Proposed Topics for Discussion in 2014 (Documents CE153/2 and CE153/3)

(a) Eighth Session of the Subcommittee on Program, Budget, and Administration

11. The Director outlined the proposed topics for discussion by the Subcommittee on Program, Budget, and Administration during its Eighth Session, as listed in Document CE153/2.

12. The Committee endorsed the list of topics contained in Document CE153/2 (Decision CE153[D7]).
13. Ms. Piedad Huerta (Senior Advisor, Governing Bodies and Translations Unit, PASB) outlined the proposed topics for discussion by the Executive Committee during its 154th Session, as listed in Document CE153/3, noting that the Bureau proposed to defer consideration of item 16, on equity of access, until 2015 and that item 37, on disaster risk reduction and response, would be moved from general information matters to program policy matters so that a new plan of action on safe hospitals could be proposed to replace the current plan, which would end in 2015. An evaluation of the current plan would also be presented under the item.

14. Committee members welcomed the inclusion of the items relating to child and adolescent obesity, mental health, and disabilities and rehabilitation. In relation to mental health, it was suggested that particular attention should be paid to Alzheimer disease, given its growing prevalence in the Region, and to the problem of suicide, which was a leading cause of preventable mortality in the Americas. Three additional agenda items were proposed: border health policies, biotech medicines, and an analysis of all the public health commitments assumed by Member States in the past decade, grouped by category and area of work. Concerning the latter, it was considered necessary to take stock of what had been accomplished with respect to the various commitments and to ensure that the activities undertaken in connection with those commitments were aligned with the global health agenda and with the new PAHO Strategic Plan 2014-2019. Clarification was sought as to the content of the proposed item on mHealth and whether mHealth was a component of eHealth, on which the Governing Bodies had adopted a strategy and plan of action in 2011 (Resolution CD51.R5).

15. Several Committee members expressed concern at the large number of proposed agenda items, in particular the number of program policy matters, and stressed the need to take a disciplined and strategic approach to the selection the agenda items and to prioritize the issues to be addressed, especially in the light of current budget constraints. It was pointed out that each program policy item would generate new reporting requirements, thus adding to the already heavy reporting burden on Member States.

16. The Bureau was asked to revise the list of topics with an eye to reducing the number of items to a manageable number and ensuring that the topics retained for consideration were truly in line with the priorities identified under the Strategic Plan 2014-2019. The Bureau was also asked to circulate future lists of proposed topics sufficiently in advance to enable delegations to confer with subject-area experts at national level and to provide background on each proposed item, indicating whether a global and/or regional strategy or plan of action on the matter already existed and how the proposed item related to earlier work on the issue in question.
17. Mr. Marcelo D’Agostino (Director, Department of Knowledge Management and Communications, PASB) explained that mHealth was indeed a component of eHealth, but related specifically to the use of cell phones and other mobile devices for health purposes. The phenomenon was growing in many countries of the Region, but in most cases no strategy was in place to ensure interoperability of electronic medical records and to safeguard the confidentiality of patient information. For those reasons, it had been deemed worthy of consideration as an item separate from eHealth, which was a broader topic encompassing telemedicine and other aspects of the use of information technology in the health field.

18. The Director said that she, too, was concerned about the large number to topics. She pointed out that the consideration of most of the administrative and financial matters, progress reports on technical matters, and general information matters was required pursuant to the Constitution of PAHO or resolutions of its Governing Bodies or to requests from WHO. There was some flexibility with regard to the program policy matters, however. Some of those matters had been requested by Member States and some were the regional response to WHO strategies or initiatives; the plans of action on disabilities and rehabilitation and prevention of blindness and visual impairment were examples of the latter. All were aligned with the Strategic Plan 2014-2019.

19. A resolution from the Governing Bodies was needed to guide the Organization’s work on some of the program policy matters, but in some areas work could continue without such a mandate. That was the case with mHealth, elimination of human rabies transmitted by dogs, and public health and the environment, and she therefore proposed that consideration of those items should be deferred. She also suggested that some matters could be discussed in regional consultations.

20. Some delegations were of the view that the item on public health and the environment should be discussed in 2014. The linkage between that item and the issues of climate change and dengue was noted. At the same time, it was pointed out that the Governing Bodies had adopted a strategy and plan of action on climate change in 2011 (Resolution CD51.R15) and that there was a risk of overlap in the work on the two matters. One delegate favored retaining the mHealth item, as it was one of three proposed items relating to institutional strengthening and increased efficiency in the use of resources. It was suggested that the strategy for updating the regional information system for basic data and country profiles (proposed item 19) should be aligned with WHO’s efforts to streamline reporting by and communication with Member States. It was also suggested that the proposed additional item regarding public health commitments assumed by Member States in the previous decade might be considered in tandem with that strategy.

21. Dr. Luiz Augusto Galvão (Chief, Special Program on Sustainable Development and Health Equity, PASB) explained that the topic of public health and the environment was more overarching than that of climate change. The strategy and plan of action on the latter related mainly to action requested of WHO and the health sector under the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change. The work envisaged under the topic of public health and the environment would include aspects of climate change but would also incorporate chemical pollution, sanitation, and other environmental issues that had an impact on health.

22. The Committee agreed that the list of topics would be finalized following a 30-day period of electronic consultations, after which the Bureau would prepare a provisional agenda for consideration by the Subcommittee on Program, Budget, and Administration in March 2014 (Decision CE153[D8]).

Appointment of a Working Group of Member States on Monitoring and Evaluation Components of the Strategic Plan 2014-2019

23. Mr. Daniel Walter (Director, Department of Planning and Budget, PASB), recalling that the recently concluded 52nd Directing Council had requested the Executive Committee to appoint a Working Group to continue improving monitoring and evaluation of the PAHO Strategic Plan 2014-2019 (Resolution CD52.R8), presented the following suggested terms of reference for the Working Group:

(a) To work on the final definitions and measurements of impact and outcome indicators;

(b) To give advice on the establishment of an effective monitoring and evaluation system for the PAHO Strategic Plan;

(c) To review the PAHO programmatic priorities stratification methodology and make recommendations for its improvement;

(d) To present the results of the indicators’ validation process to the Executive Committee and the Directing Council in 2014 for approval of the revised baselines and targets.

24. It was suggested that the membership of the Working Group should include the current members of the Executive Committee, as well as Barbados, Mexico, Peru, and the United States of America, which had also participated in the formulation of the Strategic Plan 2014-2019 as members of the Countries Consultative Group. It was further suggested that Brazil, as President of the Executive Committee, should chair the Working Group. Members would be invited to appoint representatives to the Working Group who were public health experts with national and/or regional experience and had experience in national health planning, monitoring, and evaluation. It was envisaged that the Working Group would hold mainly virtual meetings, with at least one face-to-face meeting. The
The Bureau would serve as its technical secretariat. The first virtual meeting would be convened in late October 2013.

25. The Committee endorsed the suggested terms of reference, composition, and working methods of the Working Group (Decision CE153[D9]).

PAHO Award for Administration (2013) (Document CE153/6)

26. Dr. Heidi Jiménez (Legal Counsel, PASB) noted that the Executive Committee, at its 152nd Session, had decided to confer the PAHO Award for Administration 2013 upon Dr. Brendan Courtney Bain, of Jamaica. The award was to have been conferred during the 52nd Directing Council. However, the Government of Jamaica had informed the President of the Executive Committee that Dr. Bain had indicated that he was not in a position to accept the award, and Dr. Víctor Raúl Cuba Oré (Peru, outgoing President of the Executive Committee) had requested that the item be removed from the Directing Council agenda. In view of those circumstances, the Executive Committee might wish to adopt the proposed resolution contained in Document CE153/6.

27. The Committee adopted Resolution CE153.R1, annulling the PAHO Award for Administration 2013.

Administrative and Financial Matters

Amendment to the Financial Rules of PAHO (Document CE153/4, Rev. 1)

28. Mr. Michael Lowen (Director, Department of Financial Resources Management, PASB) recalled that the 52nd Directing Council had approved several amendments to the Financial Regulations of PAHO (Resolution CD52.R2), which were intended to increase the efficiency and effectiveness of the implementation of PAHO’s program and budget and enhance the Bureau’s administrative operations. In the light of those amendments, the Director had determined that several amendments to the Financial Rules were warranted in order to strengthen existing controls and provide additional guidance on implementation of the Regulations. The proposed amendments to the Financial Rules were set out in Document CE153/4, Rev. 1.

Project for Modernization of the PASB Management Information System (PMIS): Progress Report (Document CE153/5)

30. Ms. Sharon Frahler (Acting Director of Administration, PASB), summarizing the progress made in implementing the project for modernization of the PASB Management Information System (PMIS) since June 2013, reported that the Bureau had completed the pre-implementation phase, which had comprised the activities needed to ensure the project’s success. Outcomes of that phase included a review of the overall project structure; the establishment of a core PMIS team, which included staff members from the areas of program management, budget, human resources management, financial management, procurement services, and information technology; and the performance of a readiness assessment and establishment of a project risk registry based on the risks and critical success factors identified during the assessment.

31. In addition, the business case for the PMIS had been finalized and a number of business processes had been redesigned and simplified. The review and streamlining of business processes would continue throughout the project. A contract with an enterprise resource planning (ERP) software company, Workday, had been signed on 30 September 2013. Contract negotiations had resulted in savings of over $900,000 with respect to the original quoted price during the five-year period of the contract.

32. As for the next steps in the project, during October 2013 a detailed statement of work for the system integrators would be defined, the contracts for the project manager and the external change management services to support the PMIS project would be finalized, and the individuals or companies would be contracted. The implementation phase would commence in November or December. That phase would include the identification and procurement of third-party software products to complement the functionalities of the Workday software and support planning and budgeting, procurement, and other areas. The preliminary timetable called for completion of the first phase of implementation, comprising the areas of human resources, staff benefits, and payroll, by the end of 2014 and completion of the second phase, which would overlap with the first but also include the areas of finance and procurement, by the end of 2015.

33. The Committee welcomed the progress made, but expressed concern at the delay in getting the project under way and at the cost overrun mentioned in paragraph 14 of Document CE153/5. Assurance was sought that the necessary due diligence had been carried out with respect to Workday and that the software had the technical capabilities needed to allow implementation to proceed on schedule and enable the system to function effectively. Clarification was also requested regarding how the system would mesh with and contribute to the work of the Organization’s technical programs. It was emphasized that the PMIS and WHO’s Global Management System (GSM) must be able to communicate with each other. Delegates expressed the hope that the PMIS would not experience the “teething problems” that had beset the GSM in its early days.

34. Ms. Frahler emphasized that the Bureau was keenly aware of the need to control costs and make the best possible use of the resources provided by Member States. She explained that the tier-1 ERP software that had originally been selected had subsequently been rejected because its cost would have far exceeded the $20.3 million budget for the project. Moreover, it would have provided more capability than was actually needed. The Workday software would enable the Bureau to remain well within the budget and would provide adequate functionality, although it would have to be supplemented with additional software. That software, however, could be procured without exceeding the budget.

35. It was unlikely that the implementation of the new system would be entirely problem-free. However, the Bureau had learned from WHO’s experience; it understood the problems that had arisen with the GSM and would do its utmost to avoid them. She assured the Committee that PAHO’s system would be able to communicate with the GSM. Indeed, that ability had been one of the requirements for the project from the outset.

36. As to how the system would contribute to the Organization’s technical programs, she pointed out that while many of the system’s components were administrative in nature, its ultimate aim was to support PAHO’s work as a technical agency. The system would provide both technical officials and Member States with more detailed and timely information on program activities, and it would generate that information automatically, which would be a major improvement. Currently, many reports had to be produced manually.

37. Mr. Ricardo de la Torre (IT Advisor, Management Information Systems, PASB) said that the Bureau had undertaken a comprehensive technical evaluation of the Workday software and had compared it with many other products. While no product was perfect, it was clear that Workday was the best one for PAHO, not only because of its price but because technically it was the best fit for the Organization’s requirements.

38. The Director expressed gratitude to Member States for their ongoing vigilance of the PMIS project and encouraged them to remain vigilant. She assured the Committee that the Bureau, too, was monitoring the project closely, and would continue to strive to ensure that new system would produce needed information in a timely manner and enable PAHO to become a more efficient, effective, transparent, and accountable organization.

39. The Committee took note of the report.

Closure of the Session

40. Following the customary exchange of courtesies, the President declared the 153rd Session closed.
Resolutions and Decisions

41. The following are the resolutions and decisions adopted by the Executive Committee in the course of its 153rd Session:
