Unsafe blood, unsafe injections, and sharing drug-injection equipment can all result in hepatitis infection.
2 million people a year contract hepatitis from unsafe injections. Using sterile, single-use syringes can prevent these infections.
Approximately 780,000 persons die each year from hepatitis B infection. A safe and effective vaccine can protect against hepatitis B infection for life.
Effective medicines exist to treat hepatitis B and cure hepatitis C.