A. SEVENTIETH WORLD HEALTH ASSEMBLY

1. The Seventieth World Health Assembly of the World Health Organization (WHO) was held 22-31 May 2017 in Geneva, Switzerland, and attended by representatives and delegates of 191 Member States. The Presidency of the Assembly rested with the Russian Federation, represented by Professor Veronika Skvortsova. Five countries served as vice-presidents: Cabo Verde, Cook Islands, Democratic People's Republic of Korea, Somalia, and Suriname, in representation of their respective regions.

2. Mr. Patrick Pengel, Minister of Health of Suriname, served as Vice President of the Assembly, representing the Region of the Americas, and in that capacity had the opportunity to lead the plenary session of the Assembly on several occasions. Hon. Molwyn Joseph, Minister of Health and Environment of Antigua and Barbuda, was elected Chairman of Commission B and led the commission's work for most of the sessions.

3. In her opening remarks, Professor Skvortsova thanked delegates for the election of the Russian Federation to preside over the World Health Assembly for the first time. She set the promotion of "health through the life course, as enshrined in the Sustainable Development Goals," as an objective for the Assembly. The President mentioned that Russia was proud of having organized the First Global Ministerial Conference on Healthy Lifestyles and Noncommunicable Disease (NCDs) Control in 2011, which set the basis for the political declaration on control of NCDs adopted by the General Assembly of the United Nations at its special session. She expressed gratitude to Dr. Chan for her professionalism and personal dedication during her 10 years in office. In concluding her address, Dr. Skvortsova committed to do her best to ensure that the election for the next Director-General be conducted in a fair and transparent manner, and in strict compliance with the rules of procedure.

4. For her part, Dr. Margaret Chan, Director-General of WHO, addressed the Assembly for the last time as Director-General (I). After 10 years of service, her term will conclude on 30 June 2017. She spoke briefly on how the global political and economic outlook has changed since she took office, addressing the 2008 financial crisis, international terrorism and violent extremism, and the attacks on health facilities and aid convoys. She mentioned the need to keep monitoring avian influenza and the Zika virus. Dr. Chan acknowledged that WHO was slow in recognizing the 2014 Ebola outbreak but also remarked on how quickly the Organisation made corrections and has since brought other outbreaks under control. The Director-General stated that "the world is better prepared but not nearly well enough."

5. Dr. Chan spoke to the relevance of WHO's work, referring to the Prequalification Programme for low-cost generic products and the progress towards elimination of ancient neglected tropical diseases. She referred to the 2010 World Health Report on health systems financing: the path to universal coverage as "the most influential publication issued during [her] administration". In referring to chronic noncommunicable diseases, she said that its rise was "the trend that most profoundly reshaped the mindset of public health” and that she would like to see the implementation of the recommendations made by the Commission on Ending Childhood Obesity in their report to the Assembly. Dr. Chan regarded the global initiative Every Woman Every Child as “the most game-changing strategy during [her] administration”.

6. As the future of the Organisation continues to be shaped, the Director-General offered the following advice for consideration by Member States: a) continue to make reductions in inequalities a guiding ethical principle; b) continue to strengthen systems for civil registration and vital statistics and continue to make accountability frameworks an integral part of global health strategies; c) protect scientific evidence, as it is the bedrock of policy; d) push for innovation, as meeting the ambitious health targets in the Sustainable Development Goals depends on it; e) safeguard WHO’s integrity in all stakeholder engagements; FENSA is a prime instrument for doing so; f) listen to civil society, they are the ones who can give the people who suffer the most a face and a voice; and g) remember the people; behind every number is a person who defines our common humanity and deserves our compassion, especially when suffering or premature death can be prevented.

7. Finally, Dr. Margaret Chan, recognizing that it was the last time addressing the World Health Assembly as the Director-General, thanked the Member States, the Regional Directors, WHO’s staff, and her family for all the support received during the last ten years.

8. Many Delegates recognized and thanked Dr. Chan for her work in the subsequent plenary sessions.

9. The elections for the new Director-General post were carried out on the second day of the Assembly, 23 May. The afternoon session started with a 15 minute statement from each of the three candidates and followed without interruption until there was a final result. During the third round of voting, Dr. Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, nominated by the Government of Ethiopia, was elected WHO Director-General for a mandate of five years starting 1 July 2017. In addressing the plenary, the newly elected Director-General emphasized that “all roads lead to universal coverage in health”. He thanked Member States for their support and said he took note of their recommendations. He stressed that he will need Member States’ “voices, commitment, and support” to ensure that WHO has the resources to deliver on its mission. He committed WHO to measure its outcomes and to provide value for money. To the partners, Dr. Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus said that the “challenges we face are too big to be solved by one sector alone” and that WHO will work as a good partner. He indicated to that he will seek advice from WHO staff and work to create a conducive environment. In closing, Dr. Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus invited all to work together for a healthier world (2).

10. The agenda of the Assembly included 70 general items, 44 of them related to technical and health issues (one included 13 progress reports on technical subjects); and 30 administrative, budgetary, and institutional items. As on previous occasions, these matters were dealt with in committees A and B, and in the plenary sessions.

11. The documents related to this report can be consulted at the WHO website: http://apps.who.int/gb/e/e_wha70.html.

12. A list of the resolutions and decisions adopted by the World Health Assembly that are of interest to the Region, the related PAHO resolutions, some of the implications that the WHA resolutions have for the Region, and the progress that has been made on these subjects can be found in the annex.¹

Other Matters: Executive Board

13. The 141st Session of the Executive Board was held on 1 June 2017. The chairmanship of the Executive Board rested with Dr. A. Hafeez, delegate of Pakistan. The following countries were elected as Vice-chairmen: Burundi, Canada, Fiji and Thailand. With the United States of America's term coming to an end, Brazil was selected to join Canada, Colombia, the Dominican Republic, Jamaica, and Mexico in occupying the six seats of the Board in representation of the Region of the Americas.

14. The agenda of the 141st Session of the Executive Board included 17 items, among them technical items such as the eradication of malaria and rheumatic heart disease; matters of management and governance including, among others, an item on governance reform and an evaluation of the election of the Director-General of WHO; and staffing matters including amendments to the Staff Regulations and Staff Rules and the statement by the representative of the WHO Staff Association.

15. Finally, the Board took note of the reports submitted and approved the date and location of the Seventy-first World Health Assembly, among other matters. It was agreed that the Seventy-first World Health Assembly will be held at the Palais des Nations, in Geneva, starting on 21 May 2018 and ending no later than 26 May 2018. The Board also decided that its 142nd Session will begin on 22 January 2018, at WHO headquarters in Geneva, ending no later than 27 January 2018; that the Programme, Budget and Administration Committee of the Executive Board will hold its 27th meeting on 18-19 January 2018, at WHO headquarters; and that its 28th meeting will be held 17-18 May 2018, at WHO headquarters in Geneva.

16. The full versions of these reports, as well as other related documents, can be consulted at the WHO website: http://apps.who.int/gb/e/e_eb141.html.

Action by the Executive Committee

17. The Executive Committee is invited to take note of these resolutions, consider their implications for the Region of the Americas, and offer the recommendations it deems relevant.

¹ A more exhaustive analysis of the implications of the WHO Resolutions for the Region will be presented during the 29th Pan American Sanitary Conference to be held 25-29 September 2017.

This report has and will continue to provide important input and impetus to PAHO's efforts in HRH, particularly as they relate to the Regional Strategy on Human Resources for Universal Health to be presented during the 2017 Pan American Sanitary Conference. HRH priorities and needs were expressed by Member States for developing the document of Regional Strategy on Human Resources for Universal Health.

All PAHO Member States are committed to develop their own NAPs to address AMR. Achievements and advances on assuring the quality of antimicrobials, strengthening the regulatory agencies, promotion of rational use of medicines both in human and animal health, adequate infection prevention and control practices, and integrated AMR surveillance will serve as components to build on the NAPs.

PAHO receives monthly remittances from WHO in respect of their annual allocation to AMRO/PAHO for WHO regional activities. Twenty-one Member States in the AMRO Region paid their 2016 WHO assessments in full. Outstanding WHO assessed contributions as of 31 December 2016 totaled $43.2 million for the AMRO Region.

Only about half of the countries/territories (22/38, 58%) report having an operational, multisectoral national NCD plan, strategy or policy. Progress has been slow in establishing NCD risk factor regulations and policies, and improving health services for NCDs. PAHO is providing technical assistance to Member States to realize the four time-bound commitments, as well as strengthen surveillance systems to be able to prepare for, and report, during the third UN HLM on NCDs in 2018. Relevant monitoring information and technical tools have been disseminated widely to assist the national NCD program managers to reach the four time bound commitments. PAHO is contributing to the planning of the global NCD forum in Montevideo, Uruguay and we have disseminated information about the forum to our Member States through the country PAHO/WHO offices. PAHO has contributed to the WHO process of updating Appendix 3 and is working closely with our Member States to ensure full participation and representation in this process as well as in the global NCD coordination mechanism.

Many of these commitments are directly related to cancer prevention and control, notably to reduce behavioral risk factors for cancer prevention, to increase HPV vaccination and HBV vaccination for cervical and liver cancer prevention, respectively; to strengthen screening services for cervical and breast cancer; to increase the utilization of the PAHO Strategic Fund for essential cancer medicines and other NCDs; and to improve quality and access to radiotherapy and chemotherapy services. Despite this progress, there is still inequality in immunization coverage, both between countries and within each country. In 2015, the regional coverage for DPT3 was 91% but out of a total of nearly 15,000 municipalities of Latin America and the Caribbean, 8,456 (56%) reported vaccination coverage with DPT3 below 95%. To face the challenge of sustaining these gains a Plan of Action for the sustainability of measles, rubella, and congenital rubella syndrome (CRS) elimination will be discussed in the 160th Session of the Executive Committee.
WHA70.15 Promoting the health of refugees and migrants	Promoting the health of refugees and migrants Document A70/24	CD55/11, Rev.1 and CD55.R13 (2016) Health of Migrants	In the Region of the Americas, migrations are a growing phenomenon that is turning migrants into minorities in vulnerable conditions with impacts on their health. The resolution on Health of Migrants (CD55.R13) proposes to formulate and implement health policies that are inclusive of these social groups. Document A70/24 explicitly mentions and highlights Resolution CD55.R13 when it describes the situation in the Region of the Americas. Furthermore, it assumes a position consistent with this resolution in identifying the main future priorities that should be assumed by the Member States, partners, and other strategic actors involved in the health of migrants.

The emergence and spread of arboviruses depends on the presence and abundance of vectors, which in turn is related to various social, economic, and environmental factors on a regional and global scale. The response was prepared in close collaboration with numerous experts and partners. The PAHO Regional entomology and vector control program was involved in the development of the document and some lessons learned and data from the Region are already highlighted in the document.

There should be continued advocacy to keep GPEI support until the world has achieved certification of polio eradication.
