Accelerating Actions in Primary Health Care

The Regional Revolving Funds encompass a comprehensive global approach to quality health technologies. They seek to increase their availability and accessibility by creating and offering Primary Health Care Packages for Non-Communicable Diseases.

Regional Revolving Funds

The packages comprise preventive interventions with vaccines, diagnosis, treatment, and disease management solutions, ensuring integrated support throughout the health process.

The Regional Revolving Funds are technical cooperation mechanisms that promote better access to and availability of vaccines, health supplies and medicines. Through the regional consolidation of demand from PAHO Member States, procurement mechanisms and strategic alliances are established to achieve better prices and agreements for all countries.

They also support countries in the standardization of protocols, quantification through systems such as QuantMET, rational use of products, strengthening supply management, among others.
